

CHARITY GRAFT COVERS STATES

Man And Woman Are Said To Prey Upon The Tender Hearted Everywhere.

SUNSHINE LEGION ARE ON RACK

Organization And Its Newspapers It Is Alleged Were Run For The Benefit Of The National President.

[Special To The Gazette.]

New York, March 14.—The Charity Organization society of New York is about to issue a general warning to all important charitable societies in the United States against the "Sunshine legion" and its two publications, Sunshine and the Sunshine Journal.

The "Charity Organization society" has been on the hunt for these people for a year. Now it has evidence in hand and is prepared to move against Mrs. E. M. Tibbets, the "national president" of the society, and her companion, Joseph W. Floridy, the organizer and brains of the graft.

These two—she, a charitable worker with a passion for diamonds as personal adornments and she a blonde of the peroxide type who is "uplifting" the tenements—have been living in a flat in Jersey City and conducting a graft which has run all through the eastern states and through part of the middle west.

It is one of the cleverest, best organized and most far-reaching taps on charity that has ever come to the notice of the Charity Organization society.

Settlements Are Blinds.

To put it briefly, Sunshine and the Sunshine Journal were two papers advocating the "uplifting" of tenement house children. They are monthly publications, made up for the most part of reprints from Sunday school weeklies. The "Sunshine Legion" pretends to maintain in seven large cities of the United States settlements, day nurseries and employment agencies for the children of the poor. To the maintenance of these settlements the proceeds of the paper are supposed to be devoted.

As a matter of fact, all the "settlements" so far investigated, including the two in Greater New York, were bluffs. They did little or no work—just enough to maintain a pretense. Seldom were any children found in the day nurseries. When children were there they seemed to have been picked up for the occasion. The employment agencies, apparently, exist only for the hiring of solicitors for the publications.

Young Girls Are Employed.

The solicitors are mainly young girls. They hunt subscribers for Sunshine at a dollar a year. Their pay is 50 per cent. of the proceeds. This seems like a "small return" to the heads of the concern, but "many a little makes a mickle," and as a matter of fact a statement by a deceived but honest manager who ran the Philadelphia agency for a month shows that it has been a paying business.

The solicitors represent their work as a matter of charity. For that reason the business men, church workers, and charitable women who are approached rarely want the paper, but they give for charity. Their gifts, too, often exceed the $1 subscription asked for Sunshine.

Fine stories drift down from up state about the conduct of some of the solicitors. Only Monday in New York, flats at 137 and 139 East Thirty-third street were robbed of $3,300 worth of jewels and toilet articles. Just before the robbery a woman in a long red automobile coat had called at all of these flats soliciting for "Sunshine." The police are looking for her.

Born in Chicago.

Exposure of the doings of the "Sunshine" people began about a year ago, when the police of Chicago began to look up operation of Mrs. Violet Jessie Sherbondy, who ran an institution called the "Sunnyside society," and a paper called Sunnyside. Mrs. Sherbondy was tried and convicted. Late in the game she admitted the graft, but declared that she had been arrested through the persecution of J. W. Floridy.

Reports from other cities went to show that all the branch institutions were run on the same principle as the Chicago office. The work of getting depositions as to the character of the home office in Jersey City was passed up to the Charity Organization society of New York. All this year that society has been following the case, adding to the depositions taken in the original trial.

"Christmas and Thanksgiving dinners" and "outings" were a part of their program as advertised in their publications. These may have yielded largely.

To a woman who had charge of the "day nursery" in Philadelphia Mrs. Tibbets wrote that she was paying too much for food. "Buy a poorer quality of butter," said the letter.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP AS TO APPOINTMENTS

Daily Resume of the Doings in Both the Senate and Lower House.

[By Associated Press.]

Washington, March 14.—The senate passed the resolution calling upon the Secretary of War to send to the senate copies of all the reports on the recent attacks by the United States troops on Mount Dajo in Jolito islands. The legislative bill was laid before the house today and Babcock of Wisconsin took the floor for a speech on the statehood bill. He said the house bill was one of the greatest legislative outrages ever enacted; that the senate had properly amended the bill and he favored the senate amendment. The consular reform convention today adopted a resolution endorsing the Lodge bill, providing for the reorganization of the consular service. The fortification bill was reported to the senate today and it carries an appropriation of $5,000,000. Raynor of Maryland advanced the senate in support of the railroad rate bill. The President today nominated Lieutenant Colonel Charles F. Powell to be a brigadier general.

NELSON'S NOTES ON TRAFALGAR TO SELL

Original Memorandum of Great Naval Victory Disposed of at Auction in London.

[Special To The Gazette.]

London, March 14.—There was offered for sale at Christie's today what experts affirm is the original of the memorandum issued by Nelson from the "Victory" off Cadix the 10th of October, 1805. The memorandum is on the method of engaging the French fleet. Various copies of the document exist, of course, but it was not until recently that the public learned of the existence of the original draft in Nelson's autograph. For years it has been in the possession of a family living not far from Merton Abbey. It is expected to bring a fabulous price. Nine years ago, when the autograph of Nelson's memoir of his birth, life and services, came under the hammer at Sotheby's, a dealer bought it for $5,000, and sold it to an American shortly afterward for a much higher price.

COAL STRIKE FELT TO BE A CERTAINTY

Delegates to the Conference at Indianapolis Say a Coal Strike is Certain.

[By Associated Press.]

Indianapolis, March 14.—All the delegates who arrived in the city to attend the meetings, conventions and conferences of the United Mine Workers seem to be convinced of the grave situation which confronts them and a majority believe there will be a strike April 1.

CALLS ROOSEVELT ENEMY TO LABOR

President Furuseth of Seamen's Union, and Gompers Cause Furor in Washington.

[By Associated Press.]

Washington, March 14.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and President Furuseth of the Seamen's union caused a furor today before the house committee on judiciary during a hearing on the anti-injunction bill, by denouncing the Gilbert anti-injunction bill which had been drawn by Commissioner Garfield and is said to have the endorsement of President Roosevelt. "If he (Roosevelt) endorses this bill and then gives it his endorsement he is an enemy to honest labor struggling under adverse conditions for better pay, he would be an enemy to human liberty; and we will not believe it." The Gilbert bill grants court settings in the equity of absolute jurisdiction in all cases growing out of labor troubles. Equity process in labor suits is violently opposed by the labor leaders.

Trial for Political Prisoners.

London, March 14.—Owing to the outcry against condemnations without trial, the Russian government has ordered that political prisoners be given a hearing within twenty-four hours after arrest.

Judge Fowler of Pond du Lac county has agreed to try the case of O. B. Schultz against 100 labor union men of Racine for $25,000 damages, on the claim of Schultz that his business was boycotted and injured.

TERRIBLE TERRY VERY CONFIDENT

ONE TIME CHAMPION EXPECTS TO WIN BOUT WITH NELSON.

NELSON: NO EXCUSE TO LOSE

Public Will Pay More To See Boxing Match Than Ever Before—Gate Receipts To Be $17,000.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 14.—Trained to the hour and ready for their battle, which is looked upon as one of the most important pugilistic events of the year, Battling Nelson and Terry McGovern await the call of the arena of the National Athletic club tonight. Never in this city has more interest been taken in a pugilistic encounter than is now manifested in this bout. Sporting men from Boston to Chicago are arriving in the city to witness the go. The attendance promises to exceed 15,000 and so fast have the tickets been sold, notwithstanding the high prices asked, that there is not likely to be an unoccupied seat within view of the ring.

Under the terms of the articles of agreement, the two boxers will receive seventy-five per cent of the gross receipts, forty-five per cent going to Nelson and thirty to McGovern. This means that should the expectations of the $17,000 gate receipts be realized—and there is little doubt but that the sum will be reached—Nelson and McGovern will receive between them $12,750. This is the largest sum of money ever paid by the public to see two boxers in a six-round contest anywhere in the world. It means, in substance, that they will receive $708 a minute.

To experts of the game no battle of later years will be more interesting. The two little gladiators are vying on their arms today, fit as the proverbial fiddles. Little or nothing in the way of training has been done today. At a late hour this afternoon the little fellows meet and weigh in. They must not tip the beam a notch over 133 pounds.

As a betting proposition the fight does not promise much. This is owing principally to the fact that under the law no decision can be given. About all the betting that is being done is on the possibility of a knockout before the scheduled distance is reached.

Weeks ago the match was made, and since that time the two men have been working hard getting into condition. If the reports from their respective training camps are to be relied upon and the fighters are in the splendid trim they are claimed to be it is hard for any one to draw a line between the pair.

Both boys feel confident of victory and are figuring on winning in the same way—that is, by a knockout blow. McGovern is confident of treating Nelson in the same manner he did Tommy Murphy. However this may be, it is certain that if McGovern is in his old-time shape Nelson will meet the toughest man he ever faced, and he will have his work cut out to win.

The same feeling of confidence pervades the Nelson camp. "I'm in splendid trim for this fight," said Battling today, "and I won't have any excuse to offer if I lose. I expect to win by a knockout before the sixth round." Jack McGuigan, the regular club referee, will officiate.

MINERS RECONSIDER DEMANDS TOMORROW

John Mitchell Favors Careful Canvasing of Decisions Made Last Month.

[Special To The Gazette.]

Indianapolis, Ind., March 14.—Practically all the delegates are here for the national conference of the United Mine Workers of America, which will be called to order by President John Mitchell in Tompkins hall tomorrow morning. No definite idea seems to exist among those already on the field as to just what action the conference is likely to take in regard to the strike proposition. President Mitchell will make to the delegates a full report of the recent New York conference with the operators and ask that the demands framed by the Indianapolis convention last month be again carefully considered. If any changes are decided upon they will be presented to the joint conference with the operators next week.

DOESN'T INTEND TO OBEY HIS HIGHNESS

Kaiser's New Daughter-in-Law Contradicted Him, Thwarted Him and is Independent.

[Special To The Gazette.]

Berlin, March 14.—If Dame Rumor is to be believed the imperious Kaiser has "met a Tartar" in his new daughter-in-law, the bride of his young son, Prince Eitel Fritz. This lady, who was Princess Sophie Charlotte of Oldenburg, has a good deal of audacity in her temperament, she is very unobsequious to her father-in-law's magnificence. The obsequious Berlin court has apparently expected the heavens to fall on her self-assertive head. She has openly contradicted his Imperial Majesty, she has thwarted one or two of his little purposes, and she has shown a marked distaste to the stiff and stern formality of the German court. And the most surprising feature of it all is that the Kaiser is said to be just a wee bit afraid of the little lady, or at any rate the unaccustomed deference he pays her would seem to justify that suspicion.

TO BURY BILL OF STATEHOOD

Measure Goes To The Committee Of House Automatically Under Rules.

MR. CANNON CHECKS OPPONENTS

Attempt To Concur In The Senate's Amendment Is Stopped By The Speaker In Very Quick Order.

[Special To The Gazette.]

Washington, March 14.—There are indications that the statehood bill may be referred by Speaker Cannon to the committee on territories. This action, the friends of statehood for Indian Territory and Oklahoma fear, will entirely defeat the measure. The committee can retain the bill indefinitely, and should it appear that there are "insurgent" votes enough to concur with the senate the bill would not, they say, be brought into the house.

Under the rules of the house a senate amendment to a house bill which changes the charge on the treasury sends the bill to committee automatically. The amendment in question is one granting lien lands to the new state for school purposes in case sections 13 and 33 reserved in each township prove to be mineral lands.

Will Wait for Absentees. Although the bill goes to committee without a motion in the house it is still on the speaker's table. Unless some member insists that the reference be made at once the plan is to defer the reference until the return of members who have gone south on a river and harbor inspection tour. This delegation will return Saturday. An agreement was made before they left whereby nothing was to be done with the statehood bill until their return.

The news that the bill was to go to committee was somewhat disconcerting to the "insurgents," who have been bending their energies to strengthen their numbers in the expectation of a direct vote on a motion to concur in the senate amendments to the bill.

Insurgents Are Disconcerted. If some way had not been discovered to send the bill to committee this motion to concur would have been in order and would have taken precedence over a motion to disagree and go into conference. Just how the "insurgents" are to meet the new situation has not been decided upon, as far as can be ascertained.

ANDY O'DEA RESIGNS AFTER LONG TIME

Crew Coach Decides To Leave the University To Take Care of Itself.

[Special To The Gazette.]

Madison, Wis., March 14.—The last of the "professional athletic coaches" has quit the University of Wisconsin in the resignation of Andrew M. O'Dea, who for the past eight years has instructed the oarsmen here. He came to Wisconsin from Australia and during the first years of his coaching staff here used a peculiar stroke called the "yarr-yarra" which was effective for three seasons and then he adopted a modification of the Cornell stroke. His brother, Patrick O'Dea, was the famous "Kangaroo Kicker" of Wisconsin football teams for four years up to about 1900. Graduate Manager George F. Downer, the only salaried man now in connection with Wisconsin university athletics, it is said, will shortly tender his resignation. Track Coach A. C. Kraenzlein resigned some weeks ago. Baseball Coach Elmer D. Pierce was hired early in the winter, but his contract was never signed and the arrangement has been abandoned. Negotiations for the reengagement of Football Coach Phil King and Eddie Holt were dropped when the anti-football wave swept the Wisconsin faculty. These things have come about because the faculty is determined that whether football be played here in the future it shall be nothing like the old game, and consequently there will not be the profits that ordinarily were reaped from football and were used to maintain all the other branches of sport in the university.

PLOT DISCOVERED TO CAUSE A REBELLION

Cabal Is Determined to Cause Czar to Rescind His Manifesto Shortly.

[By Associated Press.]

St. Petersburg, March 14.—At today's session of the cabinet it was established that there is constantly accumulating evidence of a plot to produce in the country a re-construction revolution in the hope of sweeping away the reforms outlined in the manifesto of October 30, and that it had its origin in the court cabal. The plan is to provoke riots and massacres of Jews and revolutionists over as wide an area as possible in order to justify the still more terrible repression and thereby prove to the Emperor that the people are not ripe for any sort of self-government. The authorities here are in sympathy with the conspirators and the danger of an outbreak about Easter is regarded as very real.

WILSON AGAINST THE SEED GRAFT

DISLIKES ABUSE OF PRIVILEGES

GIVEN CONGRESSMEN.

MUCH GOOD DONE, HOWEVER

Distribution of Rare and New Varieties Was Original Purpose of

"Free Seeds."

From William Wolf Smith, Washington, D. C. (Special correspondence).—In their efforts to suppress the free seed graft, the majority of the house committee on agriculture
will have the strong support of Representative James A. Tawney, of Minnesota, chairman of the committee on appropriations. Speaker Cannon is against further appropriations for the free distribution of peas, beans, corn, turnips and peanuts, and while the members of the committee on agriculture are fully informed on the subject, "Uncle Joe" thinks they should be backed up by others not on the committee. Consequently, Mr. Tawney is securing much valuable and interesting data on the subject which he will present to the house should there be an attempt to over-ride the committee. He has received a very interesting letter from Secretary of Agriculture Wilson reviewing the history of the appropriations for this purpose. "Secretary Wilson practically takes the ground that congress and not the department is responsible for the growth of this form of graft and that if the congressmen are willing to forego their little packets of seeds,
he is more than willing."

The secretary states that the first appropriation for seeds was in 1839
when the commissioner of patents was allowed $1,000 for collecting agricultural statistics and "the purchase of seeds of new and rare varieties of plants." From 1839 to and including 1865, the total amount expended in collecting statistics and supplying seeds was $372,724. The appropriation for the current year for seeds alone is $290,000 or almost one-half of the total amount expended in the twenty-six years from 1839 to 1865.
In the encouragement of agriculture, Secretary Wilson notes that "the purpose of the early legislation for the introduction and distribution of seeds was to introduce into this country seeds of new and improved
varieties and of new crops in order to increase the horticultural and agricultural products of the United States." As long as it was confined to this purpose great good was accomplished. But he continues: "As the demand for the new seeds being introduced by the department increased, such demands naturally found expression in requests made to senators and members of congress, and in course of time the number of these requests became so great that it was impossible to fill them with strictly new varieties of seeds, hence the practice began of sending out larger quantities of packages of vegetable seeds." Secretary Wilson thinks considerable good has been accomplished
in this direction, but adds: "The distribution of such seeds increased,
however, so that by about 1890 it had become the most prominent feature of the distribution, and although the distribution of new varieties of field crops was not entirely lost sight of, the proportion of such seeds introduced was exceedingly small, and the original purpose of the legislation, namely, the introduction of new and improved varieties was not kept prominently in the foreground." According to the 1897 congress specified that $20,000 should be used for the introduction of new crops from abroad and a separate section of foreign seed
and plant introduction was established, which has done much good work.

Secretary Wilson thus compares the "graft" seed distribution with that which is recognized as legitimate and proper. "There is no doubt," he says, "but that although the amount that is expended distinctly for this work of introducing and developing new crops is relatively but a small proportion of the entire appropriation,
the relative amount of good done by this branch of the work is far in excess of that accomplished by the mere distribution of miscellaneous standard varieties of vegetable and flower seeds which can be purchased from any seedsmen." In conclusion, the secretary informs: "Chairman Tawney is so far as he is aware there is no other government 'that buys or ordinary miscellaneous vegetable and flower seeds from growers and dealers
and then distributes them to its citizens.'"

The house committee on appropriations has recommended that when a government clerk reaches sixty-five years of age his salary shall be reduced to $1,000 per annum, and since the recommendation was made the department clerks have talked of nothing else. A large percentage of employees are above the "age limit"
or are approaching it and they are worried to death for fear the recommendation will be adopted. There is some justice in their contention that if a man is no longer a capable clerk
when he reaches the age of sixty-five then the country is doing wrong to permit its destinies as a nation to remain in the hands of men many of them far beyond that age. For instance they point at the youthful Senator Pettus of Alabama, who is only eighty-four years old and who expects to be a senator at one hundred. His colleague, Senator Morgan, is but eighty-three and recently gave Nelson Cromwell, the shrewdest corporation lawyer in the country, the time of his life before the Panama canal committee. Young Mr. Teller, senior senator from Colorado, would come within the limit for he is seventy-five years of age, while his colleague is only sixty-five. Senator Perkins of California is sixty-five,
Senator Bulkeley is sixty-nine, Senator Bacon of Georgia is sixty-seven,
Senator Cullom of Illinois confesses to seventy-seven, McCreary of Kentucky, sixty-eight; Hale, seventy-Burrows of Michigan, sixty-nine. Other senators who are sixty-five or over are Senators Platt and Dewey of New York, Money of Mississippi, Clark of Montana, Dryden of New Jersey,

Warner of Missouri, Millard of Nebraska, Aldrich of Rhode Island, Elkins of West Virginia, and Proctor of Vermont. On the house side, "Uncle Joe" Cannon, who is right "spry"
as speaker, is seventy, as is Chairman
Hitt of the committee on foreign affairs. Colonel "Pete" Hepburn, whose name is borne by many important bills, is above the limit as are Representatives Lacey and Hull of Iowa,
Lester and Livingston of Georgia,

News for the Railroad Men.

Northwestern Road.
Frank Drew sustained a very painful, though not serious, injury about his left hand while at work
this morning. He was cleaning a large eight Westinghouse air pump in the stationary engine room and had just removed a number of nuts when the 110 pounds air pressure, which should have been shut off, hurled a heavy portion of the mechanism to the floor, crushing the member between the iron and the bricks. One finger was badly cut and the entire hand severely bruised.

A new appliance has been rigged
up in the stationary boiler room to save the pit force much hard labor.
In the past it has been necessary to move the coal cars "by hand" from the turn table to the stationary boiler bin, there being no track on the opposite side of the table and it being impossible for an engine and a car
to occupy the table at the same time.
Now the work is done by horizontal windlass and cable.

Fireman E. Loomis has taken the south end way freight with Engineer
J. M. Smith, making his first trip
this morning.

Engineer C. B. Smith and fireman
Everhart took locomotive 53 to the Chicago shops today.

In the future the switch-engine
working in the south end of the yard will begin work at seven instead of six o'clock each morning.

Fireman James dead-headed to Baraboo today after several days service between here and Belvidere, being sick and unable to work.

Fireman Voss has returned to work in the poll with engineer Garbutt after a two month's illness.

JUDGE C. W. THOMAS IS DEAD

Republican Judicial Nominee Victim

of Unsuccessful Operation.

St. Louis, Mo., March 14.—Following an unsuccessful operation at the Mullanphy hospital Judge Charles Watt Thomas of East St. Louis died at that institution Tuesday evening of blood clot on the brain. Judge Thomas was nominated for judge by the republicans of the first Illinois supreme district on March 1. His nomination at the convention followed a deadlock lasting for 108 ballots, finally broken by the withdrawal of Judge Barker in Judge Thomas's favor. It is expected that the judicial committee, which will fill the vacancy on the ticket caused by the death of Thomas, will appoint Judge Barker
to make the race on the republican ticket.

Rescued Anti-American Order.

El Paso, Tex., March 14.—An or-sulate here, the effect of which will be to revoke the order previously issued prohibiting Americans from acquiring mining claims in Sonora and Lower California.

Servia's Old Cabinet Returns.

Belgrade, Servia, March 14.—In consequence of the failure of all attempts to form a new cabinet the old ministry, slightly altered, will return to power. Gen. Grulic becomes premier in succession to M. Stojanovich.

New York, March 14.—John D.
Rockefeller, Jr., and E. Parmelee Prentiss, his brother-in-law, at the annual meeting of the Missouri Pacific railway Tuesday resigned as directors of the company, and James Henry Smith and S. Davies Warfield were elected to fill the vacancies. Mr.
Warfield is president of the Conti-

WONDER-BOX OF SCIENCE OPENED

ALL MANNER OF MARVELS WERE

DISCUSSED

BEFORE THE TWILIGHT CLUB

By Explorers of the Skies, the Earth,

and the Things That Lie Under

the Earth, Last Evening.

The "Ladies' Night" banquet in April will conclude the activities of the Twilight Club for the season of 1905-6. Judge Charles L. Fifield will be the leader and the committee of arrangements consists of M. P. Richardson, P. H. Korst, F. A. Capella, Robert Bostwick, and F. H. Farnus.
The committee to award the school prizes consists of M. P. Richardson, Bernard M. Palmer, and Dr.
J. R. Whitten. The old program committee will select the topics for the next season.

Some Modern Theories

Nearly 150 members were present at the meeting last evening. At the conclusion of the repast served at seven long tables in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, Leader George G. Sutherland announced that Prof. John Arbutnot's talk on "Some Modern Theories of Science" would be the first discussion under the general head of "Scientific Developments," to which the program was devoted. Prof.
Arbutnot said that the theories he desired to submit to the consideration of his hearers were concerned
largely with the question of matter.
He presumed that nearly all of those before him had learned in their school days that matter was made up,
first of all, of molecules and that these molecules were composed of still smaller particles called atoms.
Thus, the familiar formula of water,
H₂O, served to indicate that one of the molecules was made up of two atoms of hydrogen and one of oxygen. Until recently the inquiries into the nature of matter had grown
no further than the atoms. "Indeed,"
it was the custom to assert that they were fundamental—that one atom of iron and could not be divided. Recent developments, particularly in electricity, had shown that even these atoms disintegrate.

Crookes' Tube and Radium

The Crookes tube is a tube from which the air has been pumped out.
Electricity which ordinarily does not travel across a vacuum is passed through this tube, because its minute particles do not come in contact with the minute particles of the air. That these particles are actually matter is shown by the fact that as they strike against the other side of the glass
they heat it almost to the melting point. From this contact other particles are sent out. These minute particles of electricity are called electrons. The discovery of radium has led to more definite conclusions. Radium, itself, has never been isolated and
is always found in combination.
It is continually sending out small particles. They carry negative electricity and when they strike an electrified body they take the electricity with them. From these phenomena come the deduction that the atom is broken up into smaller component parts. It has been possible to measure their velocity by resorting to the expedient of pulling them out of their course with a magnet. The faster
they go the harder it is to deflect
them and the measurements taken
by this method show that the velocity ranges from 18,000 to 90,000 miles
a second.

Some Deductions

The existence of these infinitesimal corpuscles as component parts of atoms explain many things. They have the property of attracting others
and assist, for instance, in leading us to definite conclusions regarding the phenomena of the formation of the clouds. When an electric current is passed into a jar of vapor it is observed that the vapor condenses around the minute corpuscles that issue from the wire. That these are particles of matter and not component parts of waves, say of light, is shown by the fact that they are absorbed. Light readily passes through glass, but not through the lighter substance—paper. In the case of electricity, the heavier substance the more corpuscles are caught. The minute particles striking glass produce
what are called X-rays, about which little definite is yet known. But it can readily be understood how these phenomena overturn the old theory
that one substance cannot be changed into another. Experiments with radium demonstrate this beyond a doubt.
They show the actual process of heavier atoms breaking up into lighter ones and in the breaking giving up their energy. There is not any where near an ounce of radium in the world. Its potential energy is 3,500,000 times greater than anything else known. One ounce of it possesses the power to lift 10,000 tons a mile high, or 5,280,000,000 feet. Radium lasts two or three thousand years,
so it would be quite a time doing it.
If all the energy could be gotten out of an ounce of gold at once, it would be sufficient to blow up a battleship.
Energy is liberated when an atom is broken up into its smaller particles.
It is hardly probable that it would ever be profitable to change a lighter metal into gold, as the energy from hundreds of tons of coal would be required. Radium will heat its own weight of water one degree in 36 seconds. A very little of it will therefore generate much steam. In its breaking down radium is converted into other substances and helium
—a metal known years ago—is one of them.

Some Conclusions

So we are led to see that the atom is not indestructible. It is continually in the process of either breaking down or building up. The diameter of an atom is one-twelve-billion-five-hundred-millionth of an inch and a corpuscle is only a ten-thousandth of that size. The corpuscle in the atom
may be likened to a mouse in a cathedral. The heavy atom is freighted with many corpuscles and the light
one with only a few. There is evidence to substantiate the theory that these corpuscles are only negative electricity. Therefore in its last analysis all matter is electricity. It would also seem that all matter is energy,

that force and substance are identical.

Astronomical Photography

With the aid of a series of stereop-tion views Prof. A. L. Colton of the University of Wisconsin gave a delightful lecture on "Astronomical Photography." For five years he was assistant astronomer at the Lick observatory and many of the photographs shown were made by himself and his colleague, Prof. Barnard. Astronomy,
he said, was the oldest of the sciences.
Far back in prehistoric times the shepherds watched the stars and noted the wanderers—the planets. In the time of Ptolemy their movements
were observed and reduced to a system. Three hundred years ago the telescope was invented by Galileo. He found craters on the moon and spots
on the sun and trouble for him resulted. Since then the science has advanced rapidly but the average person is still in the Galileo stage. They are surprised when they learn that the heavens have been so thoroughly explored that new heavenly bodies are rarely discovered. There are, of course, frequent discoveries, which aid
in refining astronomical knowledge.
Photography, since its discovery, fifty or sixty years ago, has also advanced rapidly. When a telescope 60 feet long and 36 inches in diameter is used for a camera there is one difference,
compared with other photography—the objects can't be told to sit still. There is a driving machine which propels
the telescope to follow its object. Photographs of the moon in its various stages were shown and the speaker
showed how, in observing the sun spots, it had been learned that the body takes 25 days to revolve on its axis. It was at one time his business to photograph the sun every morning for over three weeks, just like any other chore. The spots were supposed to be depressions on the surface where the gases had cooled
off and were finding their way back into the interior. Into the corner of one of these depressions our whole little earth could be rolled. The whirling storm theory of the sun spots, is now rarely advanced. Some of the phenomena of the solar eclipse of 1893, the transit of Venus, drawings of the changes in the white ice
cap of Mars, Jupiter, and its cloud-belts and satellites, Saturn, and its rings now proven by the spectroscopic
to be composed of millions of satellites, phenomena of the Pleiades, Swift's comet, the nebula in Androm-eda, the milky way composed of a great aggregation of stars, revolving nebulae, the star trails which a stationary camera would record—proving the earth's rotation; and numerous other interesting things were shown in the pictures. Stars which cannot be seen by the eye, looking through the telescope, by reason of their light pounding away on the photographic plate during the many hours of ex-posure, are at length recorded. The lecture was closed with a few remarks concerning the spectroscopic
and the uses of the spectrum.

Lead and Zinc Mines

With the aid of a number of excellent charts, Supt. H. C. Buell of the Janesville public schools, who resided in the Plattville mining district, fifteen years ago, gave a very interesting exposition of the geology
of the lead and zinc belt of southwestern Wisconsin. After the earth's crust formed, it was a well known fact that there were deposited in Wisconsin seven distinct layers. In the lead and zinc regions these layers dip from the northeast towards the southwest and the galena or ore-bearing strata has a dip more pronounced than some of the others. If the Rock river valley had lowered instead of rising 250 feet, the lead
night have been deposited hereabouts.
(It was originally in solution in the water which flowed over the land and the speaker subsequently advanced the theory that the ore-bearing rock had something to do with attracting and precipitating it.) The lowest of the seven layers is the Potsdam sandstone, reached by the lead and zinc near well. That sandstone has the peculiarity of closing up its own pores. So no ore is likely to be found in that layer. The next above it is the magnesian limestone. It is coarse but not brittle, sometimes 200 feet thick, and likewise has few crevices.
As the ore was deposited in the crev-ice and pitches there is little likelihood of finding it in any quantity in this layer. Above this is the St. Peter's sandstone which crops out in the bluffs at Plattville, and above that is the Galena limestone—the country rock often found on the surface. This is the chief ore-bearing layer. Above it is the Hudson river shale which caps the mounds near Shullsburg.
Many looking at those mounds think they must be full of ore. Should they attempt to bore there they would find that there would have to be just so much further strike, and then go back. Unlike the mines in the Joplin district the mines here are surface mines. The ore lies within 50 or 60 feet below the water line.
The Galena layer is composed of two important layers—one of them the oil rock lying between the Galena and Trenton layer. Prof. Chamberlain
thirty years ago advanced the theory that the ore would be found deposited in the sags. The city of Platteville is located in the center of an east and west sag, and the Enterprise and Empire mines are located near the lowest part of the sag. It must be remembered that this dip of the ore-bearing strata is seldom indicated by the contour of the surface. Nor is it true that all the mines will be in the convex part of the sag. The futility of exploring the St. Peter's sandstone around the Wisconsin river for ore is apparent. The upheaval of the strata which preceded the deposit
of the ore in solution was responsible for the crevices and this explains why it is now found in sags and pitches or mixed with porous rock. Diagrams were presented showing the absurdity of taking a mine for granted on account of the showing made by boring. In answer to a question Mr.
Buell said that the glass rock was located just below the oil rock and is so-called because it fractures in the same curve as a piece of glass.

Medicine and Surgery

Dr. S. B. Buckmaster, spoke on the subject of Medicine and Surgery. The history of medicine, he said, had been coincident with the history of man.
He quoted from the code of one of the ancients: "All matter is electricity."

MILLIONS TO LOSE
IF MARKET BREAKS

Sudden Cessation for Tobacco is Possible But Not Probable.

More cautious tobacco buyers
though not fearing a break in the market, suggest that it is possible
now, and in such event millions of dollars would be lost by southern Wisconsin packers, who have purchased heavily of the 1905 crop. The demand for Badger leaf remains firm
and strong and there is no available stock stored in the east, but still there are those who believe that conditions might be reversed and the warehousemen would be left with thousands of pounds which they paid higher prices for than it would bring when packed. The American Tobacco company, the trust has about completed assorting its Wisconsin
warehouses and the United Cigar company will shortly finish their work in this line. The independent men have on the average several weeks'
or a month's supply yet.

of a Local Victory.

One more game on the regular schedule and then the high school basketball team will either have finished its work for the season or be in line to win the championship of the state. This crucial test comes Friday evening of this week at Waukesha and is a contest with the high school five of that place. The opponents are old-time victors and of late have bested Janesville. But this is

The publication yesterday of the results of the first two days' balloting for the Gazette diamonds seems to have been taken as the signal for the commencement of the real activities of the campaign and throughout the evening, after the Gazette had reached the homes, a number of those for whom votes had been cast, received many encouraging messages from their friends. "Go in and win and we'll help you do it" was the tenor of most of these, while some were assured by their friends that they were already saving their ballots for them.

The latter is the kind of encouragement which counts in a campaign such as now promises to develop around the Gazette diamonds and banners. There are none of the organizations of our country which would not be proud to win one of the silk flags, and there are none of those who are actively identified with the various societies who would not prize one of the diamonds, coming as it would, through the votes of their friends. Associated as it would be with the efforts of many well-wishers, such a testimonial would be valued far beyond its intrinsic worth by those who win, and that the winners will be worthy of the best their friends could bestow upon them is one of the things that is assured in advance. Once more, are you exercising your right to voice in the question of "who will win" the Gazette trophies? You have only to clip the ballots, fill them in properly and then send them to the Gazette office to have your say about it. The ballot stands right at the office door, ready to receive your votes. The votes are coming in in constantly increasing numbers and there is every indication that, beginning Friday, (when the time limit will begin to expire on the ballots) there will be some surprisingly heavy voting.

REGULATIONS.
The voting in the Gazette Diamond Contest will be by ballot, clipped from regular issues of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette and by voting certificates issued with subscription receipts to The Gazette.

Ballots clipped from The Gazette will count one vote each for the persons named thereon when voted in conformity with these regulations within one week of date of issue.

Voting certificates will bear no time limit and may be retained and voted at any time during the contest at the will of the holder. They will be issued with subscription receipts to the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette as provided by the following subscription table:

Votes will be received and counted only when cast for members of a church, fraternal, labor, social or other worthy organization holding meetings in Janesville or Rock county.

Votes will not be accepted for employees of The Gazette office and votes cannot be transferred after they have been once voted and included in the returns.

Ballots must be clipped from regular issues of The Gazette, and no extra copies of this paper will be printed during the contest for the sake of the ballot contained therein.

The trophies to be voted for consist of two diamond rings, one for a lady and one for a gentleman, each valued over $100, and two silk society flags, each valued at $50.

The Gazette diamonds are to be awarded to the lady and gentleman having the largest number of votes at the close of the contest and the flags to those having the second largest number, for presentation to the society or organization which they may select.

A committee of representative citizens will be named to canvass the vote at the close of the balloting and make the awards.

The polls will close at 7 o'clock p. m., Saturday, April 14.

—FORTY YEARS AGO—

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, March 14, 1866.—Our Public Schools.—Messrs. Editors.—I observe by your notice of proceedings of the Common Council that they propose to amend the City Charter by requiring the Board of Education when they make any contract exceeding $500, to submit the same to the Common Council. Now there appears to me two, or three, serious objections to the actions of that honorable body. In the first place by section 21 of the City Charter it is provided that no amendment shall be authorized except by a vote of a majority of the legal votes of the city at the general State election, etc., etc. I call attention to this action and suggest that its provisions be observed. Again, we elect a Board of Education, one for each Ward, and one for the city at large, on account of their presumed fitness for the position. They are presumed to know enough to employ suitable teachers, and to discharge their other duties respectfully without compensation and without any aid from the council, who are elected for a different purpose, and are undoubtedly just as well qualified for their positions. It strikes me that the proposed amendment is unnecessary, unasked for, and if you expect to elect men for members of the Board of Education who have a reasonable amount of common sense and self-respect, you will not subject their action to review by the council, simply because the subject matter involved is $500. If the board is not competent to manage an affair of so great importance without aid, then abolish the Board of Education and let the council have the whole supervision of the schools. There is enough duty in reconciling the views of the different members of the Board of Education and its will be increased with no corresponding advantage by the proposed amendment. I suggest that the matter be submitted to the people before any legislative action is taken.

Revenue Officers.—A day or two since we casually made mention of the fact that Mr. A. E. Burpee had received an appointment in the internal revenue department. We now state that his duties are those of general inspector for the district, to see that the provisions of the revenue law are faithfully complied with. Mr. F. S. Lawrence is inspector of distilled spirits for this city.

Fred Douglas.—The Young Men's Association has been fortunate in securing the services of this talented speaker, for Wednesday, the 21st. That there will be a crowded house we have not the remotest doubt. It will be necessary for those desiring to attend to secure their seats early.

DEVELOPMENT OF FAR EAST
Since Peace Came to the Orient There Is Room for Many Enterprises.

Manchuria and Siberia are the observed of all industrial and commercial observers, since the peace treaty. The land offers vast inducements for the development of electricity by water power, the country being well watered by many large streams. There are also important coal, iron and copper mines. In the last dozen years Russia has shown a disposition to develop her mines in Siberia. The opening of the railroad through Siberia has paved the way for the introduction of foreign machinery into her mines, railroads and manufacturing plants, especially since Russia is not a manufacturing or mechanical nation. Electricity already has become a more important factor in Siberia and Manchuria than is generally believed; and the Japanese invading army has further stimulated its use. Both American and English investors have secured control of some of the oil fields, and they are rapidly installing modern machinery and methods. Both Siberia and Manchuria are in great need of machinery. Both the Russians and Japanese appreciate this, and will compete for supremacy in meeting the demand. The building of railways in Manchuria is one of the most promising features of this prospective revival of trade. Those who have made a close study of the situation online that within ten years every city of importance in these two countries will have electric transportation.

Groom Insisted on Having a Photographic Record of the Marriage.

Just at the beginning of a wedding ceremony in an Allegheny church, recently a tall man, bearing a box in his hand, attempted to enter the chancel gate and take a position behind some palms in close proximity to the clergyman and the couple. The sexton hurried after the intruder and tapped him on the shoulder, relates the Pittsburgh Gazette.

"What are you doing there with that strange box? What's in it, anyway?"

"A recording phonograph," said the man. "I came here by appointment."

Just then the bridegroom, hearing the confab, turned around and greeted the man with the talking machine.

"Scuse me, parson," he said, "but I want Jim, my friend here, to take a record of a certain part of the ceremony. I've got good reasons, sir."

The clergyman frowned, but grew tolerant at the bridegroom's pleading tone. Seeing that the innovation would be unnoticed, he went on. At the conclusion of the ceremony an appreciative smile wreathed the cleric's face as he heard the husband whisper to his life partner:

"Now, Lizzie, if you get scrappy after marriage I can soon prove that you promised to obey me!"

"Everything is impossible until we see a success." Your own business is probably bigger now than you thought "possible" before you became a shrewd (which means a "large") advertiser.

So the Philippine measure is not dead yet but only sleeping.

War is being merrily waged in the senate on the railway rate question.

Medicine Hat is a good place, winter or summer, when the weather is fine.

The Jackson club is all right, but there is such a thing as carrying it too far.

A cheerful disposition goes a long way to smooth over a rough spot in the road.

So Spooner is to be retired for Hatten for aspiring so high, but alas for his hopes.

Taft for the supreme bench would clear the way for other presidential candidates most wonderfully.

Roosevelt appears to have endorsed several measures his United States senate did not approve of.

All is not gold that glitters. Even gold medals sent out by the St. Louis exposition turn green under acid tests.

The Milwaukee Free Press continues to boost the stock of the machine but has not yet decided which cog to endorse.

It is expected that there will be a scramble for offices at the gift of the council when the new members get in.

Well, Janesville knew it was to have a railway yards before Vice President William A. Gardner gave out his exclusive interview.

State politics will soon be in full blast. The judicial and city campaigns will be over and the local politicians can begin talking about state affairs.

There is little doubt but the Rock river will continue to flow even if ashes are dumped upon its surface, but they do not look good nor do papers on its banks from office buildings.

Judge Carter of Chicago recently introduced Governor Deneen as the "model governor." Then he explained "model" to mean an imitation of the real thing. Janesville has several "model" aldermanic candidates.

Voters on election day should remember that aside from city politics there are three judges to be selected, a supreme court justice, a circuit judge, and judge for the new Beloit court. Vote for the best man for each office.

The fight for city attorney is spirited but miscreants should learn that to vilify one candidate or hold him up to scorn and ridicule is a punishable offense. It is not thought that any of the candidates wrote the vile attack upon their opponent, but the person who did should be brought to time by the strong arm of the law.

Mr. Rosa of Beloit is a candidate for the election of judge of the new Beloit municipal court. Mr. Rosa is a young attorney of particular ability and is well endorsed by the business men and attorneys of Beloit. In this matter, as the court belongs to them, the county should abide by their judgement.

Some of those gubernatorial live wires that are being stretched across the country may be grounded or short circuited before they do any damage. These heavy voltage wires should be prohibited by law anyway. It was thought, under the primary, they would be, but alas, the primary is sadly disappointing even its backers. It is not what it was cracked up to be. However it might have been worse if the Mary Ann league had had its way, so let us be thankful.

TRADE WITH SWITZERLAND.

Trade between the United States and Switzerland during the latest period for which data are available was in excess of 20 million dollars. This amount is made up of about 20.4 million dollars' worth of goods imported into the United States and 10.3 millions' worth of imports into Switzerland from this country. It goes without saying that the one-fourth million dollars' worth of exports to Switzerland, reported to the Department of Commerce and Labor as exported direct to Switzerland, comprises but a small part of American goods received by Switzerland, by far the greater part being credited by our customs authorities to other countries to which the goods are directly shipped. As a matter of fact, the most important imports credited by the Swiss customs to the United States; such as raw cotton, petroleum, unmanufactured tobacco, leather, lard, and meat, either do not figure at all in the export statement supplied by the collectors to the Bureau of Statistics, or else figure to an amount far below that credited to this country by the Swiss customs authorities. The combined value of these articles during the calendar year 1904 constitutes about three-fourths of the total Swiss imports from this country, viz, 7.6 million dollars out of a total of 10.3 millions. Of these six main items of imports, raw cotton is by far the most important, its value exceeding 4 million dollars in 1904, as against 2.8 millions in 1904.

Petroleum is the next important item received from the United States, its value in 1904 being 1.2 million dollars, as against $914,000 in 1894; tobacco, valued at $838,000, as against $706,000 in 1894; lard, $291,000, as against $386,000, and meat and meat products, $274,000, as against $309,000 in 1894, follow in the order of their importance. The decreased importations of the latter two items are no doubt due to the application since November, 1900, of the general tariff rates to goods of American origin, resulting in an increase of duty by 33 one-third per cent on meats and lard imported from this country. The other articles, mentioned were not affected by the change of the tariff, though the rates of import duty were then increased on a number of other American articles not mentioned above, such as cycles, flour, butter, sausages, dried fruit, furniture, etc. In spite of this discrimination the imports from the United States during the subsequent years underwent but little change, the average figures for the four years 1901-1904, $11,295,000, showing but a slight decrease when compared with average imports for the four years 1897-1900, viz, $11,757,000. Since January 1, 1906, the Swiss government has been again giving to this country its lowest rates in exchange for the reduced rates on articles of Swiss origin enumerated in section 3 of the tariff act of 1897. It is but proper to add that in the case of numerous articles, especially agricultural products, the present lower Swiss rates are higher than the general rates under the old tariff.

A GOOD RETORT.

One Fred W. Perry, of New York City, with an office at 20 Broad street, has been sending a circular letter to members of the senate committee on the Philippines who voted against the Philippine tariff bill. Mr. Perry, from his letter, is a member of the New York stock exchange and deals in investment securities and foreign exchange.

One of these letters reached Senator Fred T. Dubois, of Idaho. Mr. Perry made some very pertinent remarks concerning the action of the senators referred to, and Mr. Dubois has replied to him in a way in which he richly deserves. The correspondence follows:

"New York, March 5, 1906.

"Senator Dubois, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sir: I wish to protest respectfully against your vote in committee on Philippine bill. I am writing for myself alone, but there are ten of thousands of my opinion in this country, who consider themselves disgraced by the adverse votes of senators who are elected to represent the people, but who seem to have acted from selfish motives solely in defeating a measure that the whole country demanded should be passed.

"Whatever senators may imagine, the American people are back of the president in this matter, and they will sooner or later be dominant, regardless of those senators who misrepresent them. Respectfully

"Fred W. Perry."

Senator Dubois sent this reply:

"Washington, D. C., March 6, 1906.

"Fred W. Perry, member New York Stock Exchange, 20 Broad street, New York City:

"Dear Sir: I have yours of the 5th and notice that you are a member of the gambling joint in New York City, and that you have connections in foreign countries.

"I imagine that you know nothing and care nothing about the producers of this country so long as you can join in robbing them of the fruits of their toil.

"If I had any misgivings at all—when I did not—as to the propriety of my vote on the Philippine bill, a letter of censure coming from one of the accredited band of gamblers in New York City would have set such misgivings at rest.

"Respectfully

"Fred T. Dubois."

PRESS COMMENT.

So Permit The Rest Of Us.

Superior Telegram: Andrew Carnegie says that millionaires who laugh are scarce—so let us other fellows all laugh and be happy.

Argument No Good Here.

La Crosse Tribune: There's no use of sending money out of town for lead mining stock, when there's street car stock to be had.

Trousers Don't Make The Man.

Chicago Record-Herald: Dr. Mary Walker refuses to tell how old she is. This proves that it is impossible to make a man of a woman by putting trousers on her.

Wearies Of The Watching.

Green Bay Gazette: Some time ago George F. Grassie, who is held responsible for the "political dope" of the Evening Wisconsin, advised the public to watch Hatten. On several occasions since then he has repeated his advice. To date, however, Hatten has done nothing particularly well worth watching, unless it is his refusal to say a word about politics.

Bank Turned Down Prophet.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The bank of Zion City has refused to honor a check drawn by "Prophet" Dowie. Another case of a prophet being without honor in his own country.

Go Slow, Citizens.

Madison Journal: Citizens should go slow in the matter of endorsing aspirants for office. There is too much easy-going personal accommodation in this direction. The fitness of the candidates should be the first question.

Too Valuable To Use.

Exchange: One of the Vanderbilt ladies recently paid a big price for a thimble that once belonged to Queen Elizabeth. Owing to its value as a relic, however, the owner of the thimble will not use it when she makes her shirt waists this spring.

Tip For The Cardinal.

Madison Democrat: A dispatch from Rome says that Cardinal Vanutelli, sub dean of the sacred college, is having some difficulty in securing an audience with J. Pierpont Morgan. The cardinal might try making a noise like a dividend.

Kind Of Grit Needed.

Evening Wisconsin: Anent the reported sand cure for dyspepsia, it can be said that the average dyspeptic needs "sand" more than medicine—grit enough to taboo favorite viands and eat only such foods as his weak stomach can digest.

What A Suggestion!

Oshkosh Northwestern: It is very customary these days for women to remove their hats in the theatre, but they still stick to their headgear when they attend church. Is this because the women are more willing to let the men gaze on the living pictures in pink tights on the stage than on the ministers in the pulpits?

Cartoonists Did It.

Marquette Eagle-Star: Chicago can thank the cartoonists on the big city papers for its victory in the recent campaign for high license and for an increased police force, the convincing cartoons having shown a condition of affairs there which could never be done by the most sensational of unillustrated stories. As it is now, there is a possibility that Chicago may make a clean sweep of the thugs that have terrorized that city for months and years and decent citizens may feel that their lives are more safe.

The Franking Privilege.

Racing Journal: With such articles as "billiard tables and bulky things being sent through the mails by public officials it may be remarked again that the franking privilege costs the people $17,000,000 yearly. The tremendous cost of so much useless public printing done is another very large item, and the gross abuse of this franking privilege which permits loss of political matter and printing matter furthering private purposes and various dogmas and isms to be circulated under frank is nothing but a swindle on the postoffice revenues.

Publicity The Best Policy.

Madison Democrat: Publicity is the best policy. It would have been so in the case of the president of a normal school whose resignation has been requested. Mystery arouses suspicion. When denied explanations as to certain circumstances, people are apt to jump to the worst of conclusions. The truth should be disclosed simultaneously with announcements which arouse popular interest. Shall a pedagogue prove merely deficient in the qualifications which his peculiar duties necessitate, or shall he be in subordinate or yet deficient in executive ability, or yet again not of the progressive spirit the age seems to demand, why it is nothing so greatly reprehensible but that it were better the fact should be known than that ugly suspicions be bred in the dark mysticism which is permitted to surround the matter.

REFORMED CHURCHES ARE TO BE MERGED

Meeting to That Purpose Held in Charlotte, North Carolina, Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Charlotte, N. C., March 14.—A federation of seven religious denominations is expected to result from a conference begun in this city today. The denominations represented are the Presbyterian church, Presbyterian Church of the South, United Presbyterian church, Reformed Church in the United States, Reformed Church in America and the Reformed Presbyterian church.

The movement for a closer union of these denominations dates back several years. At a meeting held in Pittsburgh two years ago a basis for consolidation was prepared and arrangements were made to present the same to the executive bodies of the church. The various general assemblies and general synods received the report favorably, but in each instance referred it back to the joint committee for more detailed plans. It is to prepare these plans that the present meeting of the joint committee is held.

Prominent among the members of the committee are T. C. McRae of Arkansas, J. W. Deardslee, D. D., of Holland, Mich., R. F. Coyle, D. D., of Denver, W. N. Page, D. D., of Leavenworth, Kas., R. H. Martley, D. D., of Grand Rapids, Mich., William McKibben, D. D., of Cincinnati, J. A. Henry of Philadelphia, President Francis L. Patton of Princeton Theological seminary, President J. D. Moffat of Washington and Jefferson college, G. H. Shields of St. Louis, Henry W. Jessup of New York, Rev. A. E. Dahman, D. D., of Buffalo, Gen. J. D. Rolfe of Harrisburg, Pa., Rev. C. B. Hemphill of Kentucky, Rev. J. H. McNeilly, D. D., of Tennessee, Rev. W. E. Boggs, D. D., of Florida, Rev. W. McF. Alexander, D. D., of Louisiana, Captain C. N. Roberts of Texas, and Charlton H. Alexander of Mississippi.

Spade Guinea.

Franklin and Germany.

Few Americans know what our German fellow citizens brought out in their celebration of the bicentennial of Franklin's birth, that he printed the first German newspaper on this continent in 1732, and that later from his office were issued important German books. Franklin touched modern civilization on almost all sides. In 1766 he visited Germany, and a book by a German professor, based on conversations with him, made him a hero to the young literary men and liberals of the German "awakening," including the poet Goethe—Youth's Companion.

"THE ADVANCE,"

one of the finest 5c Cigars ever produced, will be on the market tomorrow. If you are particular about the quality of your cigars, the "ADVANCE" will please you. Don't rest content until you have tried them. True, there are some cigars that will afford a measure of satisfaction—but it remains for the "ADVANCE" to fill the whole bill of prime tobacco, flavor, making up, shape, style and great value for little money. It will be impossible to crowd more comfort in the smoking line into cigar shape than you'll find in these all-to-the-good cigars. Perhaps you already know that a great deal of a cigar's smoking quality depends upon its workmanship—the way it is built. Well, our workmen know the game; they were born with a cigar in their mouths, and they make a cigar as it ought to be made. Perhaps you believe us, perhaps not. Here's the way to make us "show you"—TRY ONE.

ONCE HELD BY BUCCANEERS

Inspected Ruins of Traditional Historic Interest—In Typical Old Spanish Church.

(By Oscar L. Brownell.)

Christobal, March 4.—1906.—(Special correspondence.)—I thought I would write you and tell you of a trip that I made on the 25th of February to Porto Bello, situated about twenty-three miles from Colon, by water. We made the trip on the government tug Christobal, leaving the government dock at twenty minutes past seven. The weather looked stormy and sure enough before going far it commenced to rain. When out after three quarters of an hour the sea became very rough. I saw a little dog crawl out of a pile of rope. This was the first case of sea sickness. Soon I saw a number of the boys leaning over the rail, (looking for fish). I also noticed that they made rather queer motions with their shoulders. Possibly they were sick for their trips were regular. Before we arrived at our destination I felt rather queer but I did not count the fish.

Strongholds of Morgan
The first sight that greets the eye is a lot of bunches of hay stacks sticking up out of the water. I located them to be a lot of small islands very high in the center, clothed with a dense growth of trees. Then appeared the entrance to the port—a narrow opening between two mountains. On passing through the entrance you slide into a large bay of deep, smooth water—a model port for safety from storms and as a location for a fortress. After entering, the first thing to be seen is the ruins of two old Spanish forts, strongholds of Morgan, the filibuster buccaneer and pirate.

Inside the Old Fortress.
Upon landing we visited them both. We found the date of 1758 over the entrance to the first and at the time it was used it was certainly a strong fort. It commands a full view of the bay and there is about a hundred old iron guns, all spiked, lying all around the walls upon the inside. Each angle of the fort has its sentry box completely arched in stone. We visited each one and in one of them you could see where the bullets had come through the little slit windows and buried themselves in the opposite walls. We also visited the underground magazines and found them to be in good condition.

Visits Other Ruins
We next visited the ruins of the custom house. The walls were in fairly good condition and it must have been a fine building in its time. There was a tree about six inches in diameter growing right on top of the walls and the roots ran down upon the inside of the wall. We next visited the ruins of an old cathedral. The outside walls were still standing and a moss-covered tablet in the gable bore the date of 1680.

Graft of the Churchmen
An old Spanish church (built later) was the next place of interest. Two natives, dressed in white robes, opened the church, passed their hats, and showed us through, explaining everything. By the way, we caught the same two men afterwards playing "keno" with the money collected. We found a life-size figure of Jesus Christ and the Virgin Mary, one upon each side, placed in a cabinet covered with gold work and with glass fronts. In the end was the sanctuary which they claimed took years to build. It certainly was fine work decorated in gold. In the opposite end was a large baptismal fountain, made of stone, and up over this was a large gallery for the choir. The entire floor was studded with graves, with marble slabs for a covering, bearing Spanish inscriptions. There were also a number of slabs in the walls.

Pay or to the Bone Pile
We next visited the grave yard, it being different from those in this state. They build a high thick wall and bury the bodies in vaults built therein. These are sealed up with marble slabs bearing the inscriptions. They charge you so much to renew, the bones are taken out and dumped into the bone pile at one end of the grave yard. There was a large bone pile here.

We left here and wandered around the village collecting some relics from the natives and visiting other ruins that did not show what they were.

Mountainous Surroundings
Porto Bello is surrounded by mountains as far as you can see and some of them are very high. They are covered with dense undergrowth. It is found that there is gold to be mined here, and there are a few miners looking for it. Around Porto Bello there is fine scenery, high and grand, while around Colon it is low and swampy.

Return to Colon
The trip back to Colon was very comfortable. We certainly enjoyed the trip in spite of the touch of seasickness that most of us had.

VERY POOR GOLD IF
IT IS GOLD AT ALL

Medal Received from St. Louis Exposition Sails Under False Colors.

For the past several weeks a large medal, beautifully mounted in a velvet-lined case, bearing the inscription, "Gold Medal from the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, St. Louis, 1904," has been shown to visitors at the local high school, but kept for safety's sake in the office vault. The prize was received for the exhibition of drawings from the Janesville graded schools and the manual training department of the high school. The certificate received shortly after the fair awarded a gold medal to the artist who created the trophy itself did not arrive until recently. It was a beautiful design and from the finish would be called of Roman gold. Some of the members of the faculty jokingly called it bronze and yesterday it was subjected to an acid test, none expecting, but that the metal would prove true to its label. However, the nitric acid upon the surface turned green almost immediately. Jewelers state that this would happen should the medal be of but two or four karats gold, but not of eight or ten.

TWO BIRTHDAYS OF
WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

Grandmother and Grandson Celebrate on Same Day—The Elder a Janesville Resident Since '43.

Two birthdays were celebrated at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grove, 205 Pearl street, last evening. The anniversaries were the seventy-third of Mrs. E. Main and the nineteenth of Mrs. Main's son, Mr. Main. Mrs. Main is the mother of Mrs. Grove and Frank Grove is Mr. and Mrs. Grove's son. At half-past six, a delicious supper was served to the thirteen relatives present. The remainder of the evening was spent most delightfully and an original poem composed to commemorate the occasion was read. Mrs. Main was presented with numerous gifts from distant places and Mr. Grove was given a handsome gold watch and various other tokens of regard. Mrs. Main came to Janesville when eleven years of age and has lived here since. This makes her one of the few early residents still here and she is esteemed and respected by a large circle of acquaintances. Mr. Grove is a well known young man with a host of friends and is employed by the Parker Pen company.

MARRIED

Boyle-Brannon
Miss Hannah Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Boyle, who reside near Stoughton, was united in marriage to Mr. P. H. Brannon of New Hampton, Iowa, in the city of Edgerton, February 20. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Harlan at St. Joseph's church. Miss Rose Riley was maid of honor and Mr. Daniel Boyle, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride wore her traveling gown of blue chiffon broadcloth and has of blue pan velvet. After the ceremony breakfast was served for a party of eight at the Carlton hotel and the couple took the 10 o'clock train for Chicago. The bride and groom were remembered with many beautiful presents. The bride has the congratulations of a host of friends in southern Wisconsin. The groom is a prominent and popular resident of New Hampton.

LOCAL LACONICS

A Versatile Rooster: Among the claims now put forward in behalf of the blooded "Lee Lee" Cuban game cock recently acquired by Patrick Gallagher, driver at the east-side engine house, is that it has laid three eggs since arriving in Janesville. J. P. Joyce of the Hotel London says that he has heard of such things before but never outside of Kansas. He regards the bird with sincere admiration.

Spoke on Japan: Mrs. J. W. Laughlin, wife of the pastor of the Janesville Presbyterian church, delivered an address on Japan at the annual meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Beloit church in that city this afternoon.

Janesville Men Successful: The West Shore Telephone and Telegraph company was picked yesterday by the council committee on judiciary as the company to be recommended to the council for a franchise to put in Milwaukee independent exchange. Don Densworth and Frank L. Bills, bankers and brokers, Chicago, and both formerly of Janesville, head the company.

Grand Council in Beloit: The Beloit Lodge, Royal Arcanum, are making arrangements for the reception of the Grand Council of the Order which will meet in their city on April 25. About one hundred out-of-town representatives are expected.

Hall Closed: Capt. Fleming of the Salvation Army wishes the public to know that the Army hall will be closed from the 15th to 21st of March, as he is leaving the city on important business for a few days.

Tickets on Sale: Tickets are on sale at King's Pharmacy on West Milwaukee street for the men's banquet at the Methodist church.

"Ladies' Night" April 17: April 17, the Tuesday evening following Easter Sunday, was the date decided upon by the Twilight club committee today for the "Ladies' Night" banquet which closes the meetings for the season.

THE WEATHER

Temperature last 24 hours taken from registered thermometer at Helm-street's drugstore: highest, 27; lowest, 13; at 7 a. m., 15; at 3 p. m., 21; wind, northeast; cloudy with snow flurries to sunshine.

QUIETLY WEDDED
THIS AFTERNOON

Miss Susie Paul, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Paul, Bride of Frederick Gridley.

At three o'clock this afternoon Miss Susie Paul was united in marriage to Mr. Frederick Gridley. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Laughlin at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Paul, 10 Prairie avenue. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Will Alderman. The bride was gown in a beautiful creation of white wash chiffon, trimmed with Mecklin lace and the groom wore the conventional black. The wedding was very quiet, owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Paul, and only the immediate relatives were present. A wedding dinner was served but the reception will not be held until Mrs. Paul has recovered. Mr. and Mrs. Gridley will leave this afternoon for this evening on a short wedding trip, visiting Milwaukee and Chicago. The bride's traveling suit is of a deep wine. After April first Mr. and Mrs. Gridley will be at home at 262 Glen street, where their residence has already been furnished. Mrs. Gridley has a host of friends who extend congratulations. The groom is a partner of E. E. Craft in the Janesville Pure Milk Company and is one of the city's rising young business-men.

FEEDING STATION
POSSIBILITY NEXT

Western Stock Shippers Write to Manager Osborn for Prices on Pulp.

Aside from the new yards planned by the Chicago and North-Western railroad south of the city there is a possibility that a large stock and sheep feeding station may also be established here. Manager Osborn of the Rock County Sugar Company has had letters from western cattle and sheep shippers asking for prices of the pulp from the best factory. This makes excellent feed for stock and large amounts are available for such purposes here. In the west there are several large feeding stations where this pulp is used almost exclusively and it has been proven a good food for fattening cattle for the market. With the new yards here a feeding station would be well located and within easy access of the Chicago market and plenty of cars available.

OBITUARY.

CHARLES H. WILDER.

Evansville, March 14.—The funeral of the late Charles H. Wilder was held this afternoon. Mr. Wilder was one of the pioneers of Wisconsin and his death takes away another old settler. A widow and four children survive him. The children are: Charles Wilder of Winton, Wis.; Mrs. W. J. Clark of Evansville and Ralph Wilder and Corlyn Wilder of Chicago.

Mrs. Alexander Babcock passed away today at her home in the town of La Prairie.

Regarding Smallpox in Edgerton, Wisconsin—A True Statement of the Situation.

The town is not quarantined. The schools are not closed. The churches are not closed. The theatres and skating rinks and public dance halls and public library are closed.

There are at this writing a total of 17 cases of smallpox in this city, of which 8 are in the pesthouse and 9 cases in private homes, all well quarantined. There never has been at any time more than 20 to 25 cases of smallpox in this city.

There have been no fatalities from smallpox since it first broke out and only two or three severe cases, the rest all being light ones.

In view of the fact that unscrupulous persons have been spreading broadcast the false news that there are two hundred cases of smallpox here, the town quarantined and schools closed, we take this means of refuting all such malicious statements and for the protection of the business interests and welfare of the town. BLAISDELL IS HELD
UNDER $800 BONDS

Man Accused of Fraudulently Obtaining $25 from D. M. Barlass Will Have Hearing March 22.

C. A. Blaisdell of Milton Junction, but more recently of Minneapolis and La Crosse, appeared in municipal court this morning and pleaded "not guilty" to the charge of obtaining money from D. M. Barlass by fraudulent methods. He wished to have his examination adjourned two weeks but it was finally set for March 22. Bail was fixed at $800, but as no one appeared to furnish the bonds the prisoner was taken back to the county jail. Attorney John Cunningham has taken his case.

WILL FIX GOLF DATE
AT MEETING ON 20

Directors of the Wisconsin State Golf Association Will Meet Here Then.

Exact dates for the state golf tournament will be decided at the meeting of the directors of the state organization to be held in this city on the 20th of the present month. While there is no doubt but that the last week in June will be selected, the date is not officially settled as yet. As soon as the spring opens the course at the Sinsinippi lakes will be put in as good shape as possible for the summer play and it is expected that the presence of the state tournament will do much to enthrall local golfers.

STATE NOTES

Harry Schiffman, a 10-year-old boy, was drowned in the Kenosha river on Tuesday. He started to walk across on the ice, but he broke through. He was the son of Louis Schiffman, the president of the Northwestern Iron and Metal company.

Robert Seirsdaal, aged 36 years, died at St. Mary's hospital, Racine, from the effects of injuries sustained at the Wisconsin Engine company works at Corliss. He was engaged in operating a drill when his clothing caught in a revolving drill.

The first annual convention of the Knights of Pythias of the Ninth district will be held at Antigo on Thursday, March 15. Marathon lodge of Wausau will attend about 100 strong and will have a special train. The lodge will take a large class of candidates for initiation.

Five years ago E. S. Hammond took a contract to log some 50,000,000 feet of hardwood surrounding Frederick. The contract was completed on Monday. Some 7,000,000 feet are now banked on the shores of Coon lake, near there. A large influx of settlers is expected this spring to take up the cut-over lands.

Los Angeles papers say that a firebug has been captured at that place after setting twenty-four fires. The suspect gave his name as James Brady, but the Racine police believe him to be Andrew Hanson, a former Racine man, arrested for firing many barns there.

ROUGH REBUKE FOR
CLINTON MASHERS

Harry Loomis and Paul Hastings Accused Ladies and Had to Recon with Husbands.

Harry Loomis and Paul Hastings of Clinton will probably be more obstinate and cautious in their street, vulgar behavior. On Milwaukee street late last evening they accosted two ladies to whom they had never had the honor of an introduction in a familiar manner, falling to take into consideration that the two gentlemen who walked behind them were by any possibility their husbands and protectors. They soon learned the error of their ways for the two gentlemen—well known local barbers—pitched in and gave the Clinton mashers a pair of drubblings which will not soon be forgotten. The young men were under the influence of liquor and after the melee was over, about twelve o'clock—they were escorted to the lock-up. They pleaded guilty to drunkenness and disorderly conduct in municipal court this morning and were given the alternative of paying fines and costs amounting to $4.10 each or serving a jail sentence. They could not furnish the money at the time and were taken to the county bastille. This afternoon someone came to their aid with the cash and they were released. Charles Sweet, the tramp who simply cannot be persuaded to leave Janesville, was given five days in jail and a fine or three additional days.

TWO OPEN LETTERS

IMPORTANT TO MARRIED WOMEN

Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well.

It is with great pleasure we publish the following letters, as they convincingly prove the claim we have so many times made in our columns that Mrs.

Mrs. Mary Dimmick

Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., is fully qualified to give helpful advice to sick women. Read Mrs. Dimmick's letters.

Her first letter:

"I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful periods—the pains were excruciating with inflammation and ulceration of the female organs. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it. Please help me—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D. C."

Her second letter:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—You will remember my condition when I last wrote you, and that the doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I wish every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them. Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 59th and East Capitol Streets, Washington, D. C."

How easy it was for Mrs. Dimmick to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and how little it cost her—a two-cent stamp. Yet how valuable the reply! As Mrs. Dimmick says—it saved her life! Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of just such letters as the above, and offers ailing women helpful advice.

SOME HOUSEHOLD HINTS:
Simple Suggestions from "Smart Set," Which May or May Not Work.

To make biscuits light—drench with gasoline and ignite before serving.

How to keep servants—chloroform them and lock in the cellar.

Quickest way to get rid of peddlers—buy all they have.

How to remove fruit stains from linen—use scissors.

To keep rats out of the pantry—place all food in the cellar.

To entertain women visitors—let them inspect all your private papers.

To entertain men visitors—feed the brutes.

To keep the children at home—lock up all their clothes.

To keep hubby at home—hide his toupee.

In order to prevent accidents in the kitchen—all the kerosene cans with water.

To stop leaks in pipes—send for the nearest plumber.

To economize on coal—get a gas range.

To test the freshness of eggs—drop them on some hard surface.

To propitiate the janitor—it can't be done.

Bad Omen for Wedded Pair.

According to a popular item of folklore if a horse stood and looked through the gateway of a road where a bride or bridegroom dwelt, it was considered to be a bad omen for that future couple.

Plant Breeding.
Walter Helms read a paper of absorbing interest on the achievements of the wizard, Luther Burbank, in the creation of new forms in plant life by grafting, breeding, sifting the pollen of one plant on the stigma of another, and selection—reserving only the best and strongest of the new plants and destroying all others. The edible desert cactus, without spines and capable of providing 600 pounds of forage for stock three years from the time of planting was one of them. the kings of Babylon 2,500 years before Christ to show that definite fees for the physician obtained—five shillings for setting a fractured bone and ten for lancing an abscess of the liver. Another law stipulated that if the patient died as a result of the physician's fingers, should be cut off. In recent times the average duration of life had been measurably increased. Within a month the Chicago board of health had proclaimed that in that city the average length of life had been nearly doubled within a few years. The speaker dwelt on the discovery of anesthesia 60 years ago and the great boom it had been to the world; the development of the bacteriological science within the past 25 years and the application of the germ theory of disease to preventive precautions in surgery. Speaking of these germs he said that four thousand million of them were expelled by a single victim of consumption in a day. Minute bacteria, both of the noxious and helpful varieties are present in and on our bodies, in the air, on the earth—everywhere. They increase usually by cell division and so rapidly that with all conditions favorable the descendants of one germ would fill the ocean in five days. Some of these germs oxidize all decaying matter and return it to the soil. They purify water and give the flavor to our foods. The decrease of deaths and pain was to the credit of the hundreds of thousands of quiet investigators who were working toward much hope of a large pecuniary reward for their lifelong labors. In a eulogy of the physician's labors the speaker said that the number killed on the battlefield was larger in proportion than in the case of any other branch of the service.

Micro-Organisms.
Prof. E. G. Smith of Beloit College discussed "Some Recent Results from the study of Micro-Organisms." He classed the bacteria according to their functions into: (1) the degrading or putrefying, (2) those engaged in the fermentation processes, (3) those which perform physiological functions. The work of the first class served to show the wonderful methods by which Nature preserves a balance in all things. In providing for the renewal of life it also provides for the taking away. If we throw meat to the ground, we say it rots—it is destroyed. Nothing could be more erroneous. It simply changes its form. The nitrogen is changed into plant food and thereby comes to sustain life again. The putrefactive agents simply remove and convert to the useful again. Fermentation may not be putrefaction. It results from the feeding of these little organisms, not on the nitrogen, but on the carbon of sugar. There is the alcoholic fermentation of these germs on the working of these germs on the carbon of sugar. Man has learned to harness these bacteria and make them perform a useful work for him. There were five million of them in a gram of the cheese you ate for supper. A speaker before the British Association for Science a few years ago bewailed the fact that the supply of food stuffs was diminishing and predicted the time was near at hand when there would not be enough wheat available for the world. Now we have known from the earliest times that the cheapest way to save land from exhaustion is to plant clover and turn it under with the plough. Why? Only in recent times has it been learned that at the roots of this clover are nodules where innumerable numbers of these organisms are engaged in converting the useless nitric acid of the air into use nitric acid for plants. Above every square mile of earth there is enough nitrogen to grow all the wheat that the world's population can consume in a year. Talk about men acquiring values and property for their declining years—their labors do not compare with those others, which are solving the problem of preserving those things necessary to life itself.

Plant Breeding.
Walter Helms read a paper of absorbing interest on the achievements of the wizard, Luther Burbank, in the creation of new forms in plant life by grafting, breeding, sifting the pollen of one plant on the stigma of another, and selection—reserving only the best and strongest of the new plants and destroying all others. The edible desert cactus, without spines and capable of providing 600 pounds of forage for stock three years from the time of planting was one of them. The "plumcot," created by breeding the wild American plum, the Japanese plum, and the apricot, the plum without a pit, the verbena with the odor of arbutus, the blue poppy, the "pomato," derived from the union of potato and tomato, the remarkable timber tree, resulting from the breeding of the English walnut and the California black walnut which grows six times as fast as the native California tree and provides a sound wood that burns well and takes a beautiful polish; and other remarkable creations were discussed and explained. The wizard's refusal to create anything, useless—such as the possible blue rose—was touched upon. In conclusion Mr. Helms referred any of his hearers who might be interested to Harwood's "New Creations of Plant Life," a new book in the local library, which tells how Burbank has done in a few years more than Nature unaided could have done in a millennium, indeed, more than it could ever have done.

SENATOR COCKRELL IS ANGRY

Veteran Statesman From Missouri Loses Temper When Agent of Big Corporation Refuses to Give Information When Questioned.

Kansas City, Mo., March 14.—A Standard Oil manager received a severe reprimand from Francis M. Cockrell during the interstate commerce commission oil hearing here Tuesday.

G. W. Mayer, Kansas City manager for the Standard Oil, was the witness grilled by the veteran Missouri statesman.

The attorneys for the independent oil producers had been trying hard to get from Mayer an admission that there was a connection between the Standard Oil company, the Union Tank Line company, the Republic Oil company, the Waters-Pierce Oil company, and other companies. To all questions Mr. Mayer answered: "I do not know," although he had been a manager of the Standard Oil company for twenty-eight years.

Answers: Anger, Senator. At the close of Mayer's testimony Mr. Cockrell asked him: "Tell this commission, are the Republic Oil company and the Waters-Pierce Oil company part of the Standard Oil company?"

"I do not know, sir."

"What is your best impression about it?"

"I have none."

"Don't you feel and know in your heart that they are all part and parcel of the same company?"

"I do not know."

"Don't you feel in your heart it is so?"

Then the veteran ex-senator slapped the desk with his fist and said, severely: "I am tired and sick of this effort made by Standard Oil people to conceal this fact when every man, woman and child knows it is so. Now, everybody wants the truth told here and why don't you tell it? Every body ought to stand upon its own bottom and you folks ought not to dodge this question further."

Standard Oil's Bribery Fund.
Evidence that the Standard Oil company gave its agents a monthly cash allowance to bribe railroad brakemen and yardmen to reveal shipments of independent oil companies, was given at the interstate commerce hearing Tuesday.

Further evidence was given in the shape of letters going to show that the Standard Oil company shipped its oil from Needles, Kan., to Baxter Springs, Kan., for 6c cents per 100 pounds, while the independent oil men were charged 17c cents for the same haul.

The evidence of the Standard Oil's bribery fund was given by E. L. Willhoy, formerly the Standard's agent at Topeka, but now an independent dealer.

Mr. Willhoy said that while agent for the Standard at Topeka he was instructed to watch all shipments of oil to that point, and to ascertain the name of the shipper and the point of distribution.

Joliet's Railroad Men.
"How would you get information from railroads as to your competitors' shipments?" was asked.

"I never went to railroad officials," said Willhoy. "I always got my information from employees of the railroad. I was allowed $8 a month to spend with railroad employees in buying drinks and making myself a good fellow, and I was permitted to give away oil and gasoline to railroad employees and report such gifts as donations."

They were always given in person. "I also was instructed to promise railroad employees good positions with the Standard Oil company. I was instructed to tell them that a man could get a salary with the Standard greater than the president of the United States receives. This system of bribery was inaugurated by the Standard Oil company and has been in vogue for years."

TO EXEMPT VETERANS

Age Limit Not to Apply to Men Who Fought for Country.

Washington, March 14.—A strong protest on behalf of the veterans of the civil war against the action of the house committee on appropriations in recommending the enactment of a law reducing the compensation of government clerks after they have reached the age of 65, and ultimately closing the classified service to men over 70 years old, is contained in a letter written by "Corporal" Tanner, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, to Representative Tawney, chairman of the committee.

"Corporal" Tanner calls Mr. Tawney's attention to the fact that a great percentage of those upon whom the proposed law would bear the heaviest fought for the preservation of the union, and declares that it would be ungrateful for the republic to cut down the wages of these men at a time when they most need the money, and eventually turn them out of employment at a period in their lives when they would be unable to help themselves. Mr. Tanner points out that the age rule was applied to congress it would fall heavily upon some of the most distinguished members, particularly in the senate, and declares that you won't find a confederate soldier behind your bill. The subject came up in the house Tuesday during consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriations bill.

Mr. Littaer of New York, and Mr. Livingston of Georgia, representing the republican and democratic views, argued that something must be done in the way of reorganizing the government service. Mr. Littaer said it could be conducted at half the present expense, and he added that the entrance to this service was wide open, but the exit was only large enough to let out a coffin. Mr. Prince of Illinois, gave notice that he will offer an amendment exempting from the operation of the age provision veterans and the widows of veterans of the civil war.

To Punish Hazards

Washington, March 14.—Graduated punishment for hazing is recommended by the subcommittee of the house committee on naval affairs, which has been investigating conditions at Annapolis, and has made its report to the full committee. The present system of expelling all midshipmen found guilty of hazing is declared vicious. Congressional interference is dismissed as injurious to the naval academy, and changes in the laws which will make it possible to punish each case as it deserves are suggested. It was found that the practice was widespread and tolerated by cadet officers. Rear Admiral Brownson is censured for exacting a pledge from midshipmen not to engage in hazing, and for allowing this subordinate to exact a pledge was personal to him and not binding after Rear Admiral Sands became superintendent. Lieut. C. P. Snyder also is mildly censured.

Consular Reform Meet.

Washington, March 14.—The national consular reform convention began its sessions here Tuesday, and plans for strengthening the service for foreign lands were discussed. Representative Adams reviewed the features of the consular reform bill passed by the senate and now before his committee. Senator Lodge, author of the measure, reviewed its principal features. Secretary Root will address the convention to day, and in the afternoon the president will receive the delegates. The following officers were selected: President, George H. Brown, Detroit; Mich. secretary, Frank S. Gardner, New York; treasurer, Harry Tregoe, Baltimore; and a committee, the above, and Messrs. S. A. De Lima, New York; chairman, John H. Harper, Philadelphia; M. Porter, Pittsburg; Asbury Wilson, Buffalo; William E. Cushing, Cleveland; J. E. Lathrop, Portland, Oregon; James Weatherly, Birmingham, Ala.;

CHAPTER VII.

ONCE more in Valley Springs, Ann's old self returned, and the scenes through which she had passed became as unreal as the happenings of a dream; but her sense of injury deepened into dislike of Raymond and the life he represented. Therefore she took care not to see him as he was borne into Barnett's house. "He's nothing to me, and I must decline to be troubled by him further," she said as she was dressing to go out.

Mrs. Barnett, however, was waiting and when the carriage in which he lay came to the door hastened to take his hand in both of hers and make him welcome. "I'm glad you came, Rob. We are going to have you out in a few days. How do you feel?"

In his weak state he could only boyishly say, "Oh, I'm on the up grade. You and Don are mighty good to me." Thereafter Raymond abandoned himself to the joy of traveling back to life along such ways of wanton luxury as he had never known. He permitted himself to be waited upon, even by Mrs. Barnett, without protest, and when Louis came, stealing into the room in awe and love, his heart went out to the boy as to a brother.

"Hello, youngster," he called. "You needn't walk so soft voiced. I'm worth a dozen dead men yet." The boy's face shone. "I thought you were asleep. Can I do anything for you?"

"No; only come and sit down and talk to me. What have you been doing since you came back to the Springs?"

Louis took a seat. "Nothing of any consequence, except to make some drawings of the ranch. It's dull here. I want to go into the mountains."

"You're a wonderful youngster. Wait till I'm able to travel, and we'll go up into the high country together."

Louis clasped his hands. "Won't that be glorious? I'd rather do that than anything else in the world."

"How is your sister?" asked Raymond, with abrupt change of tone.

"She is well. She's always well. We just came in from a drive. That's the reason I wasn't here to help you. Did it hurt you going upstairs?"

"Not a bit. The boys handled me as tenderly as a side of pork. Let me see your drawings, will you?"

The boy's face glowed. "Well, you just wait." And he rushed away to get them.

Mrs. Barnett upon meeting Ann said, with deep feeling: "Rob's illness has transformed him. He said to me a few moments ago: 'If you can find the man who shot me, reward him. He has done me a great service. I am lost in a dream of luxury.' He asked after you with emotion and said he would like to thank you for your service to him."

Ann, listening intently, remained coldly impassive of face. "Mrs. Scribbles was the really efficient person. I have a horror of sick people, and as for wounds"—She shuddered for lack of words.

Mrs. Barnett went on: "I like to do for him, he's so grateful and so obedient. He says just the right thing always. There must be good breeding back of the man, although he never mentions his family. There's some love affair to account for his being here. He's too handsome not to have had engagements. Don't you think so?"

"He insisted not," replied Ann. "He begged me to consider that his life had been quite commonplace."

"I don't believe it. He couldn't be commonplace. He said to me just now, 'Sometimes a man must lead the wash of the river of death to realize how futile he has allowed his life to become.' His gratitude toward you is pathetic."

Ann frowned. "It's worse; it's oppressive. I did so little, and that little was not done with a gracious spirit. I didn't enjoy it then nor in retrospect."

"You mustn't let him know that. His worship of you positively irradiates his face, and he's very handsome. He insists that you were heroic." Ann grew a little petulant. "I wish you wouldn't try to make mountains out of molehills. It was a most unpleasant experience, and I wish to forget it; not to have it dinned in my ears forever. My going was folly, and my stay in that ghastly place was a torment. Please allow me to put it out of my memory."

Ann had a moment of bitter homesickness, a feeling she had never known before. This mad trip into the west with a reckless and supersensitive boy grew each moment more disastrous. At the moment she fairly hated her cousins and all the guests at their table and longed, with unspeakable hunger, for the roll of carriages on Fifth avenue and the glitter and tumult of Broadway. The stony, uninterested stare of her mother was better than this prying, this overstrained interest on the part of Jeannette.

As for Raymond, he had been momentarily interesting as a cowboy, and when he was lying at the brink of the grave he had assumed tragic value, but now that he was on the way to recovery he ceased to interest. "He is merely one of the thousands of other commonplace young eastern men who have tried their fortunes in the west and failed," she said. "Why should I be burdened with any further care of him?"

At dinner Don told again for the fourth time the story of Raymond's shooting and in spite of Ann's protests put her in as the heroine, which relinquished her almost to the point of leaving the table. The "Ah's" and "Dear me's" and "By Jove's" volleying from the listeners were quite insupportable. One lady said, "Poor fellow!"

"Not at all," said Dr. Braide. "He was a lucky dog. I'd be shot any day to get such a nurse."

Jeannette saw the angry flush on Ann's face and hastily turned the conversation into less personal channels. "Thus every influence swept her toward a dislike of the wounded man's very name; and thereafter she ignored his presence in the house, his being in the world, as though he did not exist. She neither asked after his health nor replied to any report or question made by her brother concerning him."

Louis brought to Raymond, one day a small limp book with red leather, which he proffered with the air of giving a gem.

"What's this?" asked Raymond. "Your diary?"

"No; my father's. He was out here before I was born, when the Indians were here."

Raymond opened the volume with languid interest, but soon realized that he was looking into the past through the eyes of a poet. Part of it was written in ink, very legibly, but in a fine running hand, while other of the pages were hastily scribbled in pencil and not to be easily deciphered. Plainly the record had been made under great disadvantages and in the field. The links were of various colors, some watery blue, some dusty black.

"You say the father called her Hesper?"

Louis opened the book at the front, wherein the picture of a slender, smiling, handsome young fellow in sombrero and hunting clothes had been pasted.

"He enjoyed his new hat, didn't he?" said Raymond, to whom the essential incongruity of the refined face and border ruffian toggery first appealed. "You're the image of your father!" he added, looking keenly at the boy. "He don't look much older in this picture, taken in the same place, well, Sylvanite was a wild town in those days. Is there much about it in the book?"

"Ten pages," he wrote a page of fine script every day, but I don't care so much for that—these stage rides, and the big canyons, and crossing the rivers, and the Indians—these are what interest me."

Raymond became profoundly interested in the book. There was an appeal in the closing entry, which touched him profoundly. The entry was headed, "They Lived, Yew," and closed with these words: "I love my home and my friends in the east, but this primeval world has held its spell upon me. I shall come again next year."

"Did he come again?" asked Raymond, with a gasp.

"No," answered Louis sadly. "And it was soon evident to Raymond that the lad knew very little of his father beyond the message in the word little book."

"Leave this with me, Louis; I want to read it all," he said. "And the boy was glad of this interest."

Mrs. Barnett came in later and asked, "What are you reading?"

"It is a journal kept by Louis' father. Did you know him?"

"Oh, very well. He was my favorite uncle."

"Tell me of him. Who was he—how did he come to make this trip?"

Mrs. Barnett took a comfortable seat. "I don't know where Uncle Phil got his streak of sentiment. He was one of six brothers, all successful business men; keen, practical—you know the kind. But Phil—well, he was the odd sheep—he always seemed a boy to me. He worked in the bank, but his mind was on other things. I don't remember how they came to send him out here, but I can recall perfectly the effect he had on me when talking of his trip. He glorified this country. He saw the mountains as the old time landscapists pictured them. When I first came I went with disappointment, the range seemed so prosaic by contrast. He talked of nothing else for a year. Then he married, and gradually ceased referring to his experiences."

"He never came again, Louis tells me."

"No. His wife was not the kind of girl to go west. I don't want to say anything severe about Alicia, but she made Phil very unhappy. When Ann was born Phil wanted to call her Hesper, in memory of his trip to the west, but Alicia cried out against it. It was an odd name, but it was pretty, and there was no reason why the father shouldn't have had his wish, but that was her way. She was cold and selfish even in her honeymoon. I never saw such a girl. Phil went with her to every fashionable resort in Europe, but she not merely refused to make a trip into his Hesperian mountains, but she wouldn't let him go. He used to get up into the Adirondacks now and then; I remember, but only for a day or two. Oh, how exacting she was! After Louis was born she grew worse. She became morbid. I never could see that she had a particle of maternal affection. If Ann isn't like her it is because Phil's blood is in her veins. Louis is exactly as Phil was. As I recall him when I saw him first."

"You say the father called her Hesper?" pursued Raymond, acutely interested in all that concerned Ann.

"It was his pet name for her. Few people knew it. I don't think Louis knows it; for Ann considered the name absurd as she grew older and never refers to it. I think it is a pretty name, doesn't you?"

"Yes, it is beautiful." His eyes took on a misty look.

Hesper! Somehow the name expressed the poetry of the father's conception, and with little else to do the wounded man gave long hours to recalling, and reliving his experiences with her as his nurse.

"He longed with a great longing to see her again, but to his curious shyness had been added the humility of one who feels himself unworthy to ask any favor, and the troubled look which came now and again into the lines of his face made Louis sad. The boy idealized him, made of him a wonderful being, better worth serving than any monarch, and in this strain he talked to Ann till she impatiently begged him to stop."

But in her secret heart Ann admitted that she, too, had been touched by the indefinable charm of Raymond's voice and manner, but the question of how best to check his growing power over her brother's life had become a very serious problem, for as the days wore on he put her aside as completely as she ignored his here.

Together Raymond and the boy read the little red book, mapping the points described as best they could—a task of some difficulty, for the traveler had purposely given mythical names to the towns, rivers and peaks. It had all been a wonderland to Philip, Rupert, and he took care to leave no stupid or vulgar name near the perfect effect.

There was something in all this which reduced and softened the young rancher. Joined with his love for "Hesper" (as he loved to call Ann in secret), this boyish father's enthusiasm transmutated every reckless, bitter impulse into stern resolutions to enter upon a new life—a life with purpose and devotion in its course.

Big Business at Shops of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

During the last year over $2,000,000 has been expended by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway at the shops of that company, located at West Milwaukee. Principal items making up this expenditure have been for additions, new machinery and increased facilities for handling the growing business of the company.

During the year 1905 the operations carried on at these shops may be summed up as follows:

Locomotives, large standard size, built complete, 27; value between $400,000 and $500,000.

Baggage cars, 45; value $60,000. Caboose, 20; $16,000.

Freight cars, 1500; 1,350,000. In addition, about 11,000 freight cars, 200 locomotives and hundreds of other rolling stock have undergone repairs at the shops, aggregating in cost from $100 to $500 per car.

During the year the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway has given employment at its shops alone to between 3500 and 4000 workmen, largely skilled mechanics, and has paid them wages aggregating $2,000,000. Milwaukee Sentinel.

Double-Tracking River Division of Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Will Employ 1,000 Men for Three Years.

With the opening of spring the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will commence work on double-tracking its line between La Crosse, Wis., and St. Paul. The company will employ about 1,000 laborers for this work and intend to have the second track laid over the entire distance within the next three years. A portion of this line will require a great deal of hard and expensive work, as the railway closely follows the Mississippi river and for some distance the new road will have to be blasted through solid rock. Minneapolis Tribune.

Special Vegetable Cars. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway has made quite a study of special cars for various commodities handled, among which are specifically constructed vegetable cars. This is the only line west of Chicago having this special class of equipment. So popular have these cars become that the above line has found it necessary to add from time to time to this class of equipment, and they now have about 500 in service. These cars have a capacity of 50,000 pounds; a cubic foot capacity of 22,000 cubic feet; they are constructed the same as refrigerator cars with the exception that they have no ice tanks, no trap doors, and no drip pipes; making them as nearly frost proof as possible in handling vegetables during the fall and winter months, as they will protect vegetables to ten degrees below zero. They are very popular with potato and cabbage shippers.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

No other remedy has given such perfect satisfaction as a blood purifier and tonic or is so reliable in the cure of blood diseases of every character as S. S. S. It is known as "The King of Blood Purifiers," and the secret of its success and its right to this title is because "IT CURES DISEASE." It is an honest medicine, made entirely of purifying, healing roots, herbs and barks, which are acknowledged to be specifics for diseases arising from an impure or poisoned condition of the blood and possessing tonic properties that act gently and admirably in the up-building of a run-down, weakened or disordered condition of the system.

One of the greatest points in favor of S. S. S. is that it is the only blood remedy on the market which does not contain a mineral ingredient of some kind to derange or damage the system. It is the one medicine that can be taken with absolute safety by the youngest child or the oldest member of the family, and persons who have allowed their systems to get in such condition that most medicines are repulsive to the stomach will find that S. S. S., while thorough, is gentle and pleasant in its action, and has none of the nauseating effects of the different mineral mixtures and concoctions offered as blood purifiers.

As every part of the body is dependent on the blood for nourishment and strength, it is necessary that this vital fluid be kept free from germs and poisons. So long as it remains uncontaminated we are fortified against disease, and health is assured; but any impurity, humor or poison acts injuriously on the system and affects the general health. Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes, and the different skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition, as a result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor. Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, and Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders that continue to grow worse as long as the poison remains.

But all blood diseases are not acquired; some persons are born with an hereditary taint in the blood and we see this great affliction manifested in many ways. The skin has a waxy, pallid appearance, the eyes are often weak, glands of the neck enlarged, and as the taint has been in the blood since birth the entire health is usually affected.

In all blood troubles S. S. S. has proved itself a perfect remedy and has well earned the title of "KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS." It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, humors, waste or foreign matter, and makes this stream of life pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited blood troubles like S. S. S.; it removes every particle of the taint, purifies and strengthens the weak, deteriorated blood, and supplies it with the healthful properties it needs and establishes the foundation for good health. As a tonic this great medicine has no equal; and it will be found especially bracing to weak, anæmic persons. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores, and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles are cured permanently by S. S. S., and so thorough is the cleansing of the blood that no trace of the disease is left to break out in future years or to be transmitted to offspring. If you are in need of a blood purifier get "THE KING" of them all, S. S. S.—and good results are assured. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired furnished without charge to all who write.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

To Cut Canal Board.

Washington, March 14.—Reduction of the membership of the canal commission from seven members to three and the location of the office of administration upon the isthmus will be provided for in the canal act soon to be presented by the senate canal committee. With regard to salaries the bill will provide that such as serve in this country shall be paid according to the prevailing scale of wages in the government's executive departments, and that there shall be an increase for those working on the isthmus. The measure will exclude the eight-hour, the alien labor and the contract labor laws from operation upon the canal zone.

Republican Caucus.

Washington, March 14.—A caucus of the republican members of the house will be held next Thursday afternoon on the statehood bill. The insurgents who will attend, however, will insist that the meeting is not a caucus which binds all members to the policy decided upon by a majority, but only a conference which leaves all members free to decide for themselves the way they will vote. The stalwarts of the house are confident Thursday's meeting will result in the endorsement of the plans of procedure, which Speaker Cannon has decided upon as the most feasible. The insurgents do not admit defeat.

Favor Civil War Veterans.

Washington, March 14.—In discussing the appointment of a postmaster for Pacific Grove, Cal., President Roosevelt, informed Representative Needham that all other things being equal, he preferred to have such places filled by veterans of the civil war.

Limits Rail Men's Hours.

Washington, March 14.—Representative Esch introduced a bill which gives the interstate commerce commission the power to prescribe upon complaint the number of hours a railroad employe shall be required to work.

10,000 read Gazette want ads daily.

To Name Supreme Justice.

Washington, March 14.—It is understood that the president will announce the selection of a justice of the supreme court to succeed Justice Brown on Friday. It is believed that Secretary Taft will accept the appointment.

Oppose Publicity.

Washington, March 14.—Democratic members of the house committee on election of the president have succeeded in putting the republicans on the committee fully on record as favoring a continuance of secrecy regarding contributions made to the national committees in the last presidential campaign.

CHARIVARI MOB WRECKS A HOUSE

Refusal to Supply Crowd With Refreshments Brings Serious Results.

FIRE BULLETS INTO THE WALLS

Shower of Stones Greets Trio Who Appear on Veranda and Attempt to Bow Away the People—Dynamite for Dessert.

Perryopolis, Pa., March 14.—In the matter of charivari Perryopolis can give any other town in this state aces and spades. As the result of the last one in which the town turned itself loose warrants have been issued for the arrest of nearly every man in the place big enough to throw a stone or fire a gun. Warrants are still being sworn out. Up to date they total nearly fifty.

H. J. Mossbury, whose son was married recently, is responsible for the warrants. Before his son was married Mossbury was the owner of a fine house surrounded with trim fences and set off by many trees in which Mossbury took pride. Since the marriage Mossbury and his family have had to sleep in the barn.

House is Wrecked. His house is a wreck. There isn't anything like a fence near it, and the trees look as if they had tried to stop a cyclone.

But the town had the time of its life the night of the wedding. Every shotgun in a radius of five miles added to the gaiety. More than 500 shots were fired. Most of them went through the house, reducing it to the nature of a sieve. Half a dozen sticks of dynamite completed its devastation. The fences made bonfires, in the light of which the youth of the town kept up the "screenade" until early in the morning.

When it was over and the serenaders had departed Mossbury and his family crawled out of the cellar and gathered up about five bushels of empty shot shells in what had been his front yard. He will use these as evidence against the men he has had arrested.

Graceful Bowe Anger Mob.

The affair started pleasantly enough, but Mossbury refused to "give up." He and his son and his new daughter-in-law appeared on the front porch when the serenaders came and bowed gracefully. But that did not go. A shower of stones showed that it did not. One of the stones struck Mossbury where it hurt and he lost his temper. He drew a revolver and fired a shot in the air. From that time until morning the air was full of shots and noise. The serenaders riddled everything they could while their ammunition lasted, and when that was gone brought on the dynamite.

Mossbury says he and his family were scared out of their wits and for this and the damage to his house he declares he will make the serenaders pay or go to jail. If all the men he has had arrested go to jail there will be no one left to do the work in Perryopolis.

TWO FISHERMEN ARE SLAIN

Companion of Men in Camp Held by Police on Suspicion.

Alton, Ill., March 14.—The bodies of two fishermen, Fred Hentz and William Sennett, with their faces torn to shreds by charges from a shotgun, were found Tuesday lying near an abandoned coal chute along the Mississippi river between Granite City and Alton, Ill. Henry Steffen, who was apprehended while rowing down the river as fast as he could pull, was ordered to land by a policeman and placed under arrest on suspicion. At the police station Steffen said that he and Hentz and Sennett had been camping together and that Monday some unknown assassin suddenly fired upon them in camp with a shotgun, killing his two companions.

British Steamer Sinks.

London, March 14.—The British steamer Colne foundered off the Dutch coast. Twelve of her crew were drowned and seven were saved.

MINERS WILL RESCIND THE RYAN RESOLUTION

Plan to Sign Agreement With Bituminous Operators Whether or No Anthracite Owners Accede.

Indianapolis, March 14.—The first work of the convention of the United Mine Workers, when it assembles here Thursday, will have to be the rescinding of the Ryan resolution if peace is to be maintained in the bituminous district and the conference with the operators next week is to be a success. This resolution declares that agreements in every district in which the miners are organized must be signed at the same time or none will be signed.

It is apparent that the anthracite operators are holding firm, and the hope of the officials of the miners seems to be that the operators in the bituminous field are willing to grant some concessions. The operators will not consent to a conference, however, unless the Ryan resolution is rescinded, as the miners would be powerless to make an agreement with the resolution still in force.

President Mitchell of the miners has been on the ground since Monday, and a number of the national board members arrived Tuesday. There were several secret conferences, but all the officials refused to talk. It is known, however, that there is likely to be a hot fight in the convention.

WAR ON THE SUNDAY THEATER

Fifty Actors in Toledo Fined $1 Each and Bound Over.

Toledo, Ohio, March 14.—Fifty actors and actresses arrested Sunday for playing at local theaters in violation of the state law had their trials Monday. In the justice court, from which warrants were issued on complaint of the theater managers themselves, a fine of $1 was assessed on each actor and actress. Immediately after this the defendants appeared before the city court, from which warrants were secured by the Law and Order league of the federation of churches, and all were bound over to the probate court. All the performers playing at four theaters were made defendants.

Pastor Paints His Chickens.

Washington, Ind., March 14.—Annoyed by chicken thieves, Rev. S. L. Todd of the United Brethren church painted his chickens beneath the left wing. One of the marked hens was found in a poultry house and the arrest of a neighbor followed.

Juntgen Is Acquitted.

Danville, Ill., March 14.—Walter Juntgen, on trial here charged with misappropriation of funds of a bank at Paris, Ill., was acquitted by the jury Tuesday morning after a night's deliberation.

The seventeenth annual state firemen's tournament will be held at Urbana, Ill., on Aug. 7, 8 and 9. Purse amounting to $2,000 will be hung up.

Leonard B. Imboden and James A. Hill, convicted of conspiracy to wreck the Denver Savings bank, have started to serve their sentence of nine to ten years at the penitentiary at Canon City, Col.

Former Mayor Gustav Tafel was struck by a street car at Cincinnati, O., and seriously injured, being unconscious for several hours. On account of his age his condition is regarded as very serious.

Five miners were injured, several seriously, in a wild runaway of a stage coach down the side of a mountain near Virginia City, Mont. The coach struck a rock, overturning and throwing the men in all directions.

The Kentucky senate has concurred in the house bill appropriating $200 for the erection of a memorial tablet at Hodgenville, Laue county, to the memory of Abraham Lincoln. The governor will approve the bill.

Fifty actors and actresses arrested Sunday for playing at Toledo, O. theatres in violation of the state law were fined $1 each in the justice court and immediately afterward appeared in the city court and were bound over to the probate court.

Fred R. Green, former cashier of the defunct Fredonia National bank, pleaded guilty at Buffalo, N. Y., and was sentenced to six years in Auburn prison. Green was indicted on counts charging abstraction, embezzlement and false entry.

The Portage Stock Fair association, with H. G. Highland as president, will hold regular monthly fairs in Portage.

"LIGHT" RETURNS ARE HEAVY.

A seeming paradox, but an actual truth. When we say light we mean Electric Light. Electric Light is a good investment for any energetic business man intent on increasing his trade. Light attracts, and the brilliantly illuminated store, other things being equal, will get the business. Astute merchants, realizing this truth, become lavish users of Electric Light, and then watch their sales increase.
